Danwen Xing

Photography and multimedia, China

An artist at the vanguard of China's burgeoning force in contemporary art, Danwen Xing uses her experiences as a woman growing up in one of the most turbulent and productive nations on earth to observe, question and challenge society.

Mustafa Hulusi

Multimedia, London

A Turkish Cypriot born and bred in London, Hulusi challenges the notion that art can only exist in galleries and museums. His multimedia guerilla campaigns draw heavily on the commercial realm, such as advertising.

The art of great glasses

This selection of three artists is just a taste from Persol's special limited-edition book, marking this ambitious art project. Brought to life by leading British illustrator Harriet Russell, the collection serves to highlight the thought, materials, processes, skill and time that goes into creating the things that make life worth looking at: just another way for Persol to elevate the production of sunglasses into an art form.
